EX-TREASURY OFFICER

Deceased's Father Built The Original Portion of The Bell Residence

A native of Bristol, who achieved prominence in New York and nationally as well, died suddenly yesterday aboard a train on the way from his summer home in Watch Hill, R. I., to his New York office. The deceased, Walter Ewing Hope, 69, New York lawyer and former assistant secretary of the U. S. Treasury, was born in Bristol the son of Peter Ewing Hope and Sabella Hunter Baker Hope. The father of the deceased, a carpenter, built the original portion of the property now occupied by Dudley E. Bell. The property was later remodelled by Mr. Bell's father, Peter Hope for a time resided on the Newport road, Bristol township.

Walter Ewing Hope, a member of the law firm of Milbank, Tweed, Hope & Nichols, of 15 Broad street, New York, served as a Treasury official under President Hoover. At his death he was a life trustee of Princeton University and chairman of the executive committee of the board of trustees. The university awarded an honorary degree of doctor of Laws to him at the June commencement.

During the second World War, Mr. Hope was director for New York state organizations under the United States fuel administrator and served as chairman of a special committee which visited Allied countries and made a special fuel report to the peace conference in Paris.

He was graduated from Princeton in 1901 with a B. A. degree and in 1905 received his law degree from New York Law School. He was admitted to the bar later that same year and became associated with the law firm of Masten & Nichols.

Mr. Hope became a member of the firm in 1909 and was associated with it since then. After the first World War started, he served as a lobbyist-a-year man in Washington under President Wilson.

In 1928 he was Eastern vice-reasurer of the Republican National Committee during the Presidential election. The next year President Hoover appointed him Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of fiscal offices.

In 1931 Mr. Hope resigned as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. In addition to Government service he engaged in many philanthropic activities. He was president for twenty-five years of the Institute for the Crippled and Disabled, a trustee of Presbyterian hospital and the Watch Hill Chapel society and the United Hospital fund, of which he was a member of the executive committee. He headed the hospital fund's drive in 1939.

Mayor La Guardia named him to a committee which operated the 1,000,000 Czechoslovak exhibit of the World's Fair. The committee made it possible for Czechoslovakia to be represented, despite Hitler's occupation of that country.

Mr. Hope held several posts in Republican political circles. He was named chairman of the United Republican Finance Committee for the metropolitan New York district in 1941. Governor Dewey appointed him to the State Banking Board in 1945 and last year he was National

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

President Truman signed yesterday the anti-inflation measure tightening consumer and bank credit that was adopted by the recent special session of Congress. He accompanied his signature with a bitter attack upon Republican Congressional leadership.

Attorney General Clark announced that an American-born Japanese girl, known as Tokyo Rose, would be brought to this country to face a treason charge.

In Moscow, the three Western envoys again conferred with Foreign Minister Molotov. It was reported in London that he was to give Russia's reply to the Western proposals on Berlin at this meeting. In Berlin, the three Western powers considered the possible establishment of a tripartite Kommandatura as a defense against Russian claims to supreme authority over the whole city.

In the Soviet sector of the city and in the Soviet occupation zone, a vigorous purge of the Socialist Unity party was being carried out to reduce it to purely Communist elements.

General Clay stated that he did not expect to resign as Military Governor even if United States policy on Western Germany were changed which he thought unlikely.

ATTEMPT HOLD-UP OF TWO COUPLES

Youth Believed To Have Been In A Florida Car At The Time

DID NOT GET LOOT

State police of the Doylestown sub-station are looking for a 1938 or 1939 two-door Ford car, painted green or blue and carrying Florida license plates.

Identity of the driver of that car, state police believe, will reveal the identity of a youth who attempted a holdup along the Buckingham-Newtown highway, about 2:45 Saturday morning, about a half-mile east of Buckingham.

Troopers of the Doylestown sub-station, received a call from Ronald C. Smith of Edgewood road, Yardley, stating that he and his companion and two young women were driving toward Newtown on Route 113.

Smith told Trooper John Mitchell that he stopped his car along the side of the highway and that he stepped outside the car on the road side. About that time another car, headed toward Buckingham and pulled up beside the Smith car. Smith said a youth stepped out of the car and walked over to him, pushed a gun in his side and declared, "this is a stick-up."

Smith then said to the stick-up youth, "Well, what do you want my wallet?" With that, Smith put his hand in his hip pocket for his wallet and for some unknown reason the stick-up youth said, "Well, you are a pretty good guy," and

SOME OF THE SECRETS OF SUCCESS ACHIEVED BY DEWEY LIE DEEP-ROOTED FAR BACK IN HIS CHILDHOOD

By Leo W. O'Brien

(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(INS)—Because Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for President, won fame and high position in the east thousands of persons regard him as a typical New Yorker, with little knowledge of the problems of the rest of the nation.

Dewey was born in a flat over a general store in a mid-Western town, Owosso, Mich.

He spent his boyhood in the warm, friendly atmosphere of that community, where his mother, Mrs. Anne Dewey, still lives in a comfortable white frame house.

Owosso was a neighborly place of 8,000 people on March 24, 1902, when Thomas Dewey was born. His parents resided at that time in Lansing, Mich., where his father, George

SMOKING THEM OUT

With three investigations of alleged communists in the government running concurrently, there is plenty of smoke coming out of Washington. Real live ex-communists have been testifying willingly and profusely about their former activities, implicating scores of persons who, at one time or another, have held government employment.

Some of the persons named are undoubtedly communists. Others may be falsely accused.

The question remains whether a three-cornered investigation is the best way to handle the problem. Where there is too much smoke, the fire may be hard to find.

Canada, in dealing with some Russian spies of her own, managed to find plenty of fire without releasing a triple smokescreen. An ex-communist supplied the tip-off, as was the case here. His charges, however, were backed by plenty of documents, which he had foresightedly filched from Soviet files.

One of the most important differences in the way Canada handled the case was with respect to persons named by the ex-communist. Their names were not released immediately. The names of persons found, after inquiry by the Royal Commission, to be innocent of any wrong-doing, were not released at all. This procedure protected the innocent. The guilty got what was coming to them.

TALKING WIRES

Much is being written about the features and foibles of television, and many a columnist failed to mention some aspect of it in writing about the political conventions. But so far little has appeared in print about an equally fascinating invention that neither distorts nor requires make-up on the wire or tape recorder.

But people who own these inventions have been amusing themselves by secretly recording the conversations of persons in hilarious or unusual situations.

The wire recorder is a fairly small portable machine that records sound clearly on wire, running at 100 feet per minute, which may be crated at any time to make a new recording on the same wire. The misfortune of broken records can never occur with the wire when broken and made about as good as new.

Addicts are making permanent recordings on the wire reels, which cost approximately $5 for an hour reel, of radio programs, concerts, plays and lectures.

Inside Your Congress

America's Iron Curtain

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

President Truman gives a strange reason for drawing an iron curtain between committees of Congress and information under his control as to Communist connections of government employees. He says the F. B. I. has all the facts, but has not indicted the persons inquired about. Therefore, Congress should not bother itself.

This is a "red herring" to use Mr. Truman's words. To convict in a criminal case, every one of twelve jurors must be satisfied "beyond a reasonable doubt" as to the defendant's guilt. No prosecuting agency cares to discredit itself by bringing indictments in cases where witnesses, scared for their lives, may not convince every last man on a jury.

No such degree of proof is, or should be, required on the question whether a man should retain a government job. If there is a reasonable suspicion that a man is disloyal he should not be on the payroll. Only a year ago, the United States Civil Service Commission, under Congressional prodding, found 811 Federal employees disloyal. They were fired without first being convicted—much less indicted.

To claim that your representatives in Congress, or you, through them, have no business with the loyalty of government employees is nothing but the old saying that "the King can do no wrong."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in her column, also says it is really quite improper for a Congressional committee to consider the fantastic story of this evidently neurotic lady (Miss Bentley). I cannot imagine how it can serve any really useful purpose. Imagine!

Does anyone imagine that Stalin does not have spies in America? And that they are not trying to worm into government jobs?

The hostility of the New Deal to the House Committee on Un-American Activities is of long standing. It has continued under every chairman it has had. Dies, Wood and Thomas, Democrat or Republican. The "hail fellows, well met" attitude of the New Deal toward Communism is also well known. For example, the pardon of Browder from a Federal penitentiary, the admission into this country of Browder's Russian born wife, in whose behalf Mrs. Roosevelt wrote letters to immigration officials.

According to former Congressman Martin Dies, in his book entitled "THE TROJAN HORSE IN AMERICA," "The leaders of the (front) organizations have found the White House doors thrown open to them."

Mr. Dies tells of three photographs of Communists taken in the White House. One shows President Roosevelt's secretary, Morvin jumped into his car and drove away in the direction of Buckingham.

The boy was about 17 years old. Smith told the state police, and had a dark complexion. The car had license plates with a long number and are believed to be Florida plates.

Smith and his friends drove to the Anchor Inn, after the attempted holdup, and called the state police at Doylestown, who put the description of the car and youth in the police radio and also notified the Doylestown police to be on the alert.

Trooper Mitchell said that an unusually large number of Florida licensed automobiles have been seen in the vicinity of Doylestown in the past few weeks, and it is believed that the car being sought is one of that group.

State police would appreciate a telephone call—Doylestown 1948—if any residents see a similar car.

Smith and his friends drove to the Anchor Inn, after the attempted holdup, and called the state police at Doylestown, who put the description of the car and youth in the police radio and also notified the Doylestown police to be on the alert.

Trooper Mitchell said that an unusually large number of Florida licensed automobiles have been seen in the vicinity of Doylestown in the past few weeks, and it is believed that the car being sought is one of that group.

State police would appreciate a telephone call—Doylestown 1948—if any residents see a similar car.

McIntyre, surrounded by five Communists. One was financial secretary of the Communist party of the United States at the time the picture was taken, June 16, 1938. Another was of the Central Committee of the Communist party and a former editor of "The Communist" magazine. This group had come to the White House to present a portrait to Mr. Roosevelt. The boost given Communism by high government officials was enormous. How blind they were!

This is not to imply that President Truman desires to shield a single Red in contact with official Washington. He has, in fact, reversed the Roosevelt appeasement policy toward Communism. The Communist party which supported Roosevelt in 1934, is fighting Truman today.

But any man who can still call Stalin, the most ruthless butcher in modern history, other than Hitler a "good fellow," should be the last to pull down the shades and tell Congress to operate in the dark.

Nurses At Grandview Look Forward To Fine New Home

QUAKERTOWN, Aug. 17.—Nurses at Grandview Hospital are looking forward to a fine new home.

Quarters are to be provided for 75 nurses in the building for which plans have been approved, here.

The architect, Charles M. Talley, has been instructed to ask for bids which are to be opened on the 15th of September.

Plans, approved by the state, provide for a two-story building, 162x50 feet, constructed of concrete block. There will be 75 single bedrooms for nurses and students, and three apartments for supervisors. A number of classrooms and a social and recreation room are to be included.

The board has gone on record as approving a recommendation of the State Department of Welfare that any maternal patient leaving the hospital in less than seven days following the birth of an infant be required to sign a release absolving the hospital of any responsibility.

JEFFERSON LEADS IN PLAYOFF SERIES; DOWNS AUTO BOYS

In one of the most thrilling and closely played games of the season, Jefferson A. C. took Auto Boys by a 6-5 margin to get off to a one-game lead in the three-game championship playoffs of the Bristol Twilight Softball League. The winners collected 12 hits off the pitching of Johnny Jones, while Auto Boys garnered 9 off the offerings of John Ciambella, who won his 6th consecutive game without defeat.

Auto Boys jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a double and two singles, but the hustling Jeffersonians came right back to score two runs on "Rabbit" Palumbo's leadoff homer, a walk, and a double. They kept up the attack in their half of the second when 3 more runs crossed the plate. "Yogi" Imperato duplicated Palumbo's feat by hitting a homer to lead off the inning and two singles and a double accounted for two more runs. Jefferson held this 5-1 lead until the 5th. Then the Auto Boys stuckmen started to peek away until they cut the lead down to one run by the end of the 6th. In their half of the 7th with one out, Bloom doubled, advanced to third on an infield out, and scored the tying run when Imperato threw wild in an attempted pickoff. As the Jefferson softballers came in for their bats and with the game nearly out of their grasp, they struck with the speed of lightning. "Rabbit" Palumbo quickly doubled to left, was sacrificed to third, and Tony Cauti drilled the first pitch to center to drive in the winning tally.

Towards the end of this month, the fire-eaters will call their initial practice session.

2ND PLAYOFF GAME TONIGHT

The second game of the playoff series to determine the Bristol Youth League championship will be played this evening on the Bristol Terrace field. The game will begin at six o'clock, with Croydon playing the Terrace team.

PURSELL STRIKES OUT 16

"Clint" Purcell struck out 16 batters last evening as the Penn A. C. segregation won another independent ball game, beating St. Francis 7-2, on the latter's field. Purcell's feat was accomplished in seven innings of ball playing. Potter was the St. Francis hurler.

Buy or sell, twice as well, with Courier Want Ad Way.

DEMOCRAT CLUB ACCEPTS 4TH PLACE

Playoff dates for the quarter-finals of the Bristol Suburban League were decided at a meeting held in the Diamond Sporting Goods Store, Mill street, last night.

In the toss-up to break the tie for third and fourth position, the Democrat Club won and decided to accept fourth position. That made the official finish of the teams in this order: first, St. Ann's; second, Goodwill Hose; third, Hibernians; fourth, Democrat Club; fifth, Langhorne Legion.

The first game of the series will be played tomorrow evening with the Hibernians on Memorial Park field. The second game will be played Thursday evening on Memorial Park field with Goodwill Hose playing the Democrat Club.

Sunday afternoon, two games will be played with the Hibernians going to Langhorne and Democrat Club playing Goodwill Hose on the Third Ward field.

Should a third game be necessary in either playoff, it will be played on Monday or Tuesday evening of next week.

CALVARY SLUGS ST. LUKE'S TO WIN IN SERIES "B"

Calvary Baptist outlasted St. Luke's in a slugfest match last night as they notched a close 10-9 triumph over the latter club and thereby eliminated St. Luke's from the post-season playoffs of the Lower Bucks Church Softball League as Calvary swept through to victory in Series "B" in two straight games, having won the opener on Saturday, 10-5.

It was a ding-dong battle all the way with the lead changing hands three times and tied once before Calvary finally emerged victorious.

But not before St. Luke's had tossed them a real scare in the 7th when they rallied for one run and had the tying run on third when Walt Tomlinson snared Gus Foerster's terrific smash for the final out. And prior to that blow Harry Erny had turned in a sparkling performance when he knocked down Ritter's sizzling liner and then picked him off first as he rounded the bag for second, to break the back of a promising St. Luke's rally and final bid for victory.

Series "A" of the post season playoff, involving Bristol Presbyterian and Bristol Methodist, gets under way this evening at the Bristol Township, Jr. High School field. This series was delayed due to the fourth place tie between Bristol Methodist and Bensalem Methodist.

And when the latter was unable to meet the playoff schedule, they forfeited to Bristol Methodist. Like series "B" this will be a "best-of-three" game set with the winner meeting Calvary for the League championship starting Saturday, August 21st.

Score by innings:

St. Luke's	0	2	4	0	1	—	8
Calvary	5	1	0	1	2	x	13

BASEBALL PRACTICE

The Goodwill Hose baseball team will hold a practice session this evening at six o'clock on the Third Ward field.

The Hibernians will practice tonight on Leedom's field, starting at six o'clock.

Both the hosemen and Hibs are in the quarter-finals of the Bristol Suburban League which opens with Langhorne playing the Hibernians, Wednesday evening.

FIVE TEAMS GO INTO SCRAMBLE FOR THE SOFTBALL HONORS

Five teams went into the final week of the 1948 softball season in the Lower Bucks Church League with unsettled positions and in the hopes of improving their place in the final standings for the campaign.

Bristol Presbyterian, scoring four runs in the sixth frame to break a 3-3 tie with Bristol Methodist and thereby defeat the latter, 7-3, emerged from the wild, last week scramble with the league pennant. At the same time Bristol Methodist, despite the 7-3 setback by Presbyterian (and a 2-3 trouncing from St. Luke's) fought their way into the post-season playoffs by winning three of five games, which enabled them to tie Bensalem for fourth place. And since Bensalem is unable to get a team out for the play-off of their tie for the right to meet Presbyterian in "Series A" of the title games, Methodist was automatically awarded the playoff spot.

Bristol Methodist scored 8-3 and 8-1 victories over Bensalem and Calvary respectively, then were awarded a 7-0 forfeit win over St. James when the latter club folded up.

St. Luke's nosed out Calvary Baptist for second place in the final standings when they posted a 2-3-3 decision over Bristol and an 8-2 triumph over Bensalem, after playing the latter club to a 5-5 tie.

Calvary finished third, one game behind St. Luke's, when they dropped an 8-1 verdict to Bristol Methodist, after having tied the latter for second place by downing them 9-7 in a free-scoring contest.

St. James, who forfeited its final two games of the season to Bensalem and Bristol Methodist, dropped below Hulmeville, to seventh place in the final 1948 standings.

Here's how the games were won and lost.

Knowing the "stakes" were high in their contest with the Methodist club, Presbyterian set out early to achieve their goal by scoring single tallies in the first two innings and adding a third run in the fifth as the game rocked along in a hurling duel between Johnny Jones of Presbyterian and Bud Carter, of Methodist, with the latter club fumbling away its early scoring opportunities by some weird base running.

But in the sixth Dave Ludwig led off with a triple and with two out, scored on a hit by Marshall. Dowd also hit safely, both moved up on a passed ball and each scored as Jones batted twice in succession.

But Presbyterian, fighting mad, roared back with five hits good for four big markers which sewed up the ball game. Bill Walters started it with a single, then after Locke went out, Jones tripled, Fischer and Barthart singled, and Garlach doubled to account for the tallies.

Harry Erny was the big gun in Calvary's 9-7 win over St. Luke's. The Calvary third sacker had "two-for-four" drove in six runs, scored two himself and stole a base to account for his team's victory almost single-handed. His home run with the bases full in the first inning got Calvary away winging with a four run lead. But St. Luke's tied it quickly in the second on Ritter's triple with two on, followed by two Calvary errors and a fielder's choice. Calvary went ahead, 6-4 in the third, only to have St. Luke's tie it in two unearned runs on three Calvary errors. The winning runs came over in the sixth on two hits, a walk and a long fly.

Heavy hitting featured St. Luke's lapsed 2-3 victory over Bristol Methodist, with Gus Foerster, Al Kohler, Ery Weinrich and Wally Wurlthman collecting circuit drives.

A home run with two on base, in the fourth inning, by Dave Morrell, broke up a pitcher's duel between Jack Bauer and Dave Ludwig, as Bristol Methodist topped Calvary, 8-1. Methodist went on to score six runs in that big fourth, to annex an easy triumph. The winners scored their first tally in the second on consecutive singles by D. Weller, Worthington and Marshall. Bud Carter accounted for the last run with a home run to center, with the bases empty in the fifth. Calvary chalked up its lone marker in the sixth when Chart Tomlinson singled, stole second, went to third on the overthrow at the keystone sack and counted on Dyer's fly to center. Dave Ludwig pitched brilliantly for Methodist, giving up only five hits, four of which were of the scratch variety. He displayed fine control in striking out three Calvary hitters and passing only one man.

This was the victory that enabled Methodist to tie Bensalem for fourth place since their game with St. James was awarded Methodist on a forfeit. Bensalem failed to hold fourth place when they dropped an 8-2 decision to St. Luke's in the play-off of their 5-5 tie. They also came out on the short end of an 8-3 decision with Methodist earlier in the week. Their only victory of the week of hectic activity was their 7-0 forfeit win over St. James.

Bensalem, however, lost its opportunity to enter the post-season playoff series when they were unable to meet the series' schedule, because of the working hours and conditions of their players on the farm. Thus Bristol Methodist automatically gets the fourth place play-off berth in the league's final standings, although they finished in a deadlock with Bensalem for that spot.

Some of The Secrets of Success Achieved by Dewey Date Back to Childhood

Too young for Army service in 1918, Tom Dewey decided to help as best he could by working on a farm. Then was born his great love of farming, demonstrated today by his ownership of a dairy farm in Pawling, N. Y.

Then 16 after a day's work on the Earl Putnam farm in Ovid, young Dewey wrote:

"Dear folks: It's 8:00 p. m. and I am thru chores. He has three cows, 4 horses and 18 pigs—large and small. Rode a roller this p. m. and the woman who went to the M. D. for a corn cure after riding 500 miles in a Henry had nothing on me now. Tomorrow I do it all day."

Anne Dewey still has that letter. Significantly, Dewey's high school graduation year-book referred to him as follows:

"First in the council hall to steer the state."

"And ever tongue-tied in a tongue debate."

Harold E. Stassen will agree with the second line.

At the age of 17, Dewey entered

Planning Funeral For "Babe" Ruth

(By International News Service)

The great Babe Ruth lay pale and wasted in death today as a still-stricken nation sorrowfully paid its last tributes.

From the corner sandlots to the White House itself the passing of the diamond's beloved figure touched a note of almost personal grief.

President Truman, New York's Governor Tom Dewey and Mayor O'Dwyer joined with sorrowing the millions whose heart the Babe had captured and held.

Word of the legendary slugger's death last night swept over a country unable and unwilling to believe he had actually passed from the scene.

The switchboards at New York's Memorial Hospital were clogged for hours afterward.

Ruth's family announced that a Requiem Mass would be celebrated at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

A further announcement is to be made this morning concerning complete funeral arrangements — including the possibility that his body might be allowed to lie in state.

It was feared by some, however, that this might bring about a repetition of the rioting on Broadway in the mid-twenties when Rudolf Valentino — movie idol of an earlier generation — was buried amid a fanfare of hysterics.

That was only a year before Ruth achieved his greatest eminence in 1927 by hitting an all-time record 60 home runs—a record that has withstood all challenges to this day.

There was pathetically little resemblance between the roaring, swashbuckling character that dominated the ball field in the days of Yankee glory—and the feeble figure that lay mutely waiting for death yesterday afternoon.

Only the day before Ruth had been allowed to sit up for a short time in the hope that his great fighting spirit would respond.

But a cancerous condition of the throat became complicated by a pulmonary infection during the mid-afternoon—and by five o'clock the end was very near.

At six o'clock the hospital issued a bulletin that he was "sinking rapidly."

Ruth spent nearly a half hour in prayer and then fell into the sleep from which he never awakened.

After the end, the Very Rev. Thomas H. Kantman of Providence College, Rhode Island—who blessed him shortly before his death—told a hushed crowd outside the hospital:

"The Babe died a beautiful death. He said his prayers and lapsed into a sleep. He died in his sleep."

open age class. In class A the top speed was 99.8 miles per hour, in class B, 113 miles per hour; in class C, 124 miles per hour; and in class D, 135 miles per hour.

To attain these speeds the model builder must have a knowledge of engineering, aerodynamics, chemistry of fuels, a faultless patience, and ability to obtain the utmost performance from his motors. The speeds of models have been increased by 25 per cent above those of 1947 due to the invention of a device called a "glow plug" that replaces the standard ignition system.

It permits the model builders to use a fuel consisting of alcohol and castor oil so that their motors last much longer than those using regular gas and oil, petroleum based oil becomes very fluid at high temperatures while castor oil permits the well moving parts of a motor to be well lubricated at any speed.

Many members of the Aeromodelers plan to compete in the Doylestown model contest on July 29th. This is the second contest for control line models to have been held in Bucks County this year. Control line models have been increasing in popularity this year, particularly with contest sponsors who have been contemplating the combining of Classes A-B, and C-D in their free flight events due to lack of competition. In the last free flight contest at Aberdeen, Maryland, entered by members of the Aeromodelers there were as few as eight entries in one of the free flight events.

This week's meeting of the Aeromodelers will be held at Firehouse No. 1 on Wednesday evening, on August 25th the final contest for tow line gliders will be held for junior members of the club, no more being held due to fewer daylight hours in the fall.
